The United States moved for revocation of defendant's release, alleging three violations of the conditions of release. The defendant admitted to the violations of the conditions of release at a hearing on February 15, 2007.

Based upon all of the evidence presented at the hearings, the court finds that defendant has violated the conditions of supervision as follows:

1. Failing to submit to drug and alcohol testing by failing to call the drug line since January 30, 2007.
2. Failing to submit to drug and alcohol testing by failing to report to drug testing on February 1, 2007.

ORDER REVOKING RELEASE

01           3.       Failing to report to his Department of Corrections officer since January 30, 2007
02 in violation of the special bond condition that he comply with all other court orders.

03           The court finds that there are no conditions or combination of conditions which will assure 04 that defendant will appear and will not pose a danger to other persons, if released again; and
05 further finds that defendant is unlikely to abide by any condition or combination of conditions set
06 by the court. The defendant does not contest detention.

07           It is therefore ORDERED, that defendant's bond is REVOKED, pursuant to 18 U.S.C.
08 §3148(b)and that:
